LEAGUE PLEDGE AGAINST FUTURE WARS SAYS COX

Addresses West Virginia Miners And Railroad Workers

Tells of Progressive Legislature In Ohio

(By Associated Press)

Beckley, W. Va., October 25.—Labor questions and the league of nations were principal subjects of Governor Cox in his campaign through the West Virginia coal mining region today. He stressed arguments that the league was a pledge to the American soldiers and mothers to prevent future wars.

To audiences of miners, railroad and other workers, the Democratic presidential candidate told of humanitarian and progressive legislation adopted in Ohio.

Charges were made in hostile newspapers and in hand bills circulated among the Governor's crowd today that he had ordered militia into labor controversies at Akron and Canton, Ohio. They called attention to his statement he had never thrown a soldier's uniform into, nor had a shot been fired in any Ohio industrial controversy while he was governor.

Today's attack was met by the Governor with the statement that his record was public and he would stand upon it.

DARING ESCAPE OF PRISONERS STIRS SING SING OFFICIALS

A—Key room. B—Warden's room. 1—Death house. 2—The Mortuary. 3—New York Central railroad tracks entering tunnel under grounds. 4—One of many towers in which machine guns may be placed. 5—Foundation of new classification building. 6—Warden's residence. Entrance to prison is through (B) warden's offices.

The recent daring escape from the world-famous Sing Sing prison of two prisoners and the failure of attaches and police officials of the surrounding country to capture them has stirred prison and New York state officials. George Stivers, serving twenty years for murdering a policeman, and Marcus Bassett, serving two years for auto stealing, are the two escaped convicts. Bassett had but two months more of his term to serve. The pair were trustees and as such had access to the key room. When guards came to "count" the trustees at liberty the two convicts snatched them. They then forced their way into the warden's rooms adjoining and from that building, which is outside the prison walls, made their escape. They stole a nearby auto and when that machine gave out stole another. They obtained civilian clothes by holding up a party of autoists on the road.

As a result of their escape prison officials plan a shake-up in the force and additions to the protective measures about the prison, such as machine guns in the wall towers.

TOLEDO THUGS ARE STILL BUSY ROBBERING BANKS

Arouse Cashier and Compel Him to Unlock Bank Safe

Make Escape With $3,500 Cash

(By Associated Press)

Toledo, O., October 25.—Five bandits at 2 a. m. today went to the home of Ralph Turney, cashier of the bank at Alvordton, Ohio, routed him from bed and forced him to accompany them to the bank and open the safe. They escaped with $3,500 in cash and bonds worth $500.

Turney's wife was awakened when the men, using a jimmy, forced their way into the house. He was compelled to return to her room where she fainted when one of the bandits threatened to kill her husband unless he went with them.

He tried to evade them by saying there was a time lock on the safe, but was told that the intruders knew the safe had no time lock.

After Mrs. Turney fainted, one of the men went downstairs and brought up a bucket of water, which was thrown into her face to revive her.

CANDIDATES SENT LETTERS ASKING PLEDGE FOR LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)

New York, October 24.—More than fifty supporters of Senator Harding and Governor Cox tonight joined in an open letter to them asking their pledge to work if elected, for the United States entry into the League of Nations with whatever revision of the Lodge reservations two thirds of the next Senate may approve.

The letter asserted that the "approaching national election may be decisive on the dominant issue of the campaign and leave the vital question of our entry into any league or association of nations still deadlocked in the Senate or between the Senate and White House with decision more hopeless than before."

CHICAGO GRAIN DEALERS TELL OF PRICE DROP

Trade Commission is Investigating Charge of Speculation

Alleged Reasons For Drop Are Given

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, October 25.—Federal Trade commissioners investigating charges by Senator Capper that the manipulation of the board of trade here was responsible for the recent decline in the price of wheat has completed its work here.

While the hearings are held in secret it is reported that Chicago grain dealers testified the four principal reasons for the decline were:

Public clamor for lower prices backed up by reduced buying power which started liquidation in many lines.

A wheat crop announced above the average coupled with bumper crops of corn and oats.

Discriminatory ocean freight rates against flour in favor of wheat which have curtailed purchases by millers.

Keen Canadian competition.

PROMISE OHIO MORE CARS FOR COAL CARRYING

Washington, October 23.—The interstate commerce commission discontinued today preferential allotment of coal cars for fuel transportation to the Great Lakes district in three sections of the country. Allotments are to be omitted at the mines upon the Louisville & Nashville railroad in the Irwin Gas-Coal district of Pennsylvania and in the northern Ohio district, the middle districts of Ohio and also the Butler-Mercer districts in Pennsylvania.

In addition the commission announced coal car allotments may be omitted against wagon mines and mines producing stripper coal until further notice.

Coal at lake ports for transshipment to the north west has been delivered in sufficient quantities, officials said, to permit a reduction of this movement and a greater supply will be available in the districts affected by the order and also for public utilities.

Record-Breaking Hunger Strike Ended on Seventy-third Day

Bitter Resentment is Created All Over South Ireland

Victim of Self-Starvation Failed To Become Conscious

(By Associated Press)

London, October 25.—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, died at Brixton Prison, this city, at 5:40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than seventy-three days, eclipsing any in the annals of the medical world.

MacSwiney, who had been unconscious for several days did not recover his faculties before he died. Father Dominic, his private chaplain, and his brother, John MacSwiney, were with him when the end came.

Father Dominic was at the prison all night and did not leave until several hours after MacSwiney breathed his last.

The Lord Mayor was 40 years old. John MacSwiney and the chaplain, who had been waiting downstairs in the prison, were told by officials at 4:35 o'clock they should go to the Mayor's bedside, as it was thought death was approaching. The brother asked for the privilege of communicating with other relatives who were not present, but the officials, it is said, refused him the use of a telephone.

After the prisoner's death, his brother and the chaplain were not permitted to leave Brixton Prison until 6:15 o'clock. John MacSwiney immediately conveyed word to the widow of the Lord Mayor.

Mrs. MacSwiney, accompanied by her parents and the Misses Annie and Mary MacSwiney, sisters of the Lord Mayor, arrived at Brixton Prison at 9:30 o'clock. It is understood arrangements are being made to take the body to Ireland for burial.

News of MacSwiney's death had not become known in the district around Brixton Prison until after 9 o'clock. The usual large contingent of police was on duty inside the prison grounds to prevent any demonstration, but outside and along the road leading to the main highway there were no unusual signs of activity. No civilians were waiting there, as they usually did in the early days of the Lord Mayor's hunger strike.

MacSwiney was unconscious for 36 hours before his death occurred. It is stated, Father Dominic, therefore, was unable to give him communion, but he administered extreme unction.

The cause of MacSwiney's death was heart failure, according to a statement issued at the Home Office.

M'SWINEY NOTED SINN FEIN LEADER

MacSwiney's hunger strike was begun on August 12, when, with ten of his associates, he was arrested by soldiers in Cork while attending a session of a Sinn Fein court. After trial by a courtmartial under the regulations of the Defense of the Realm Act he was found guilty of sedition and Where Do You Make Implement Repairs?

When and where do you make repairs to your farm implements—on stormy days, in the shelter of the implement shed, or out in the field when farm work is rushing?

A piece of farm machinery is dependable only as long as it is properly cared for and in good condition when it begins the season's service. And it can be in good condition only if it is protected from the weather when not in use. If your implements are kept under stormproof cover they not only escape weather wear, but they are where you can give them a "going over" when the weather will not permit outside work.

Free Plans for Your Use

Among the many working plans for farm buildings we have in our Service Department are practical designs for implement sheds. These, with cost estimates, are FREE to you. Tell us what implements you have to house and we will tell you just how much floor space you require and the most convenient arrangement of doors, etc.

JOHNSON FOR HARDING STAND OF NO LEAGUE

Californian Unalterably Opposed To League and Accepts Harding Stand to Scrap It

(By Associated Press)

New York, October 24.—Senator Hiram Johnson in a statement issued at headquarters of the Republican National Committee, declared there can be "no agreement upon the league issue" between himself and supporters of Senator Harding, who say the Republican candidate will take the United States into the league of nations.

"There is a studied effort in some directions to make it appear that those who believe as I do concerning the league of nations and those who wish with, or without reservations, to enter the league," the statement said.

"Mr. Harding has said that if elected he will not take this country into the league, that he has turned his back on it and seeks not interpretation but rejection of it.

"Some gentlemen supporting Mr. Harding say, that notwithstanding this plain declaration he will take the United States into the league.

Between the gentlemen and men of my belief, there can be no unity of purpose, no agreement upon the league issue. I stand with Senator Harding. I accept as conclusive his emphatic declaration. His words upon the issue, not the words of those who are for the league, are all controlling."

Before us is the one plan, the one association. When that is buried beyond redemption by Mr. Harding's election, as it is certain to be from Mr. Harding's word, "then, at our leisure, we may examine with the scrupulous care required, any suggestions for promoting peace and preventing war."

sentenced to two years' imprisonment, which he was serving in Brixton Prison in London.

MacSwiney, then an Alderman of Cork, was reelected Lord Mayor of the city at a special session of the Cork Corporation on March 30 of this year. He was a well known Sinn Fein leader and, prior to his election, had been deported and imprisoned several times, one of the latest notable instances of his confinement having been in 1916 in connection with the Irish Easter Revolt.

FEELING BITTER AMONG IRISH

(By Associated Press)

Cork, Ireland, October 25.—Feverish interest in possible developments caused by the death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of this city, which occurred in Brixton Prison, London, this morning, is mingled with the grief in which his death has plunged south Ireland.

Although the people appeared stirred to the highest degree of bitterness it is regarded as extremely improbable there will be any outbreaks or disorderly demonstrations in this city.

There is an exceptionally large garrison here. It is equipped for any eventuality, as a number of tanks and armored cars are ready for instant service.

RAIN IS WELCOME TO THE FARMERS

Monday morning the first rainfall in a number of weeks was general in Fayette county, and was welcomed by the farmers, whose wheat was beginning to suffer for want of rain.

In many instances the ground was so dry that only a portion of the wheat had sprouted, and the rain of Monday was sufficient to insure all of the wheat sprouting and giving it some foothold before severe weather halts growing.

The Clark County Vigilance Committee has been organized for the purpose of patrolling the main highways to stop the great amount of stealing which has been going on for weeks in the Springfield locality.

FORDSON Farm Tractor

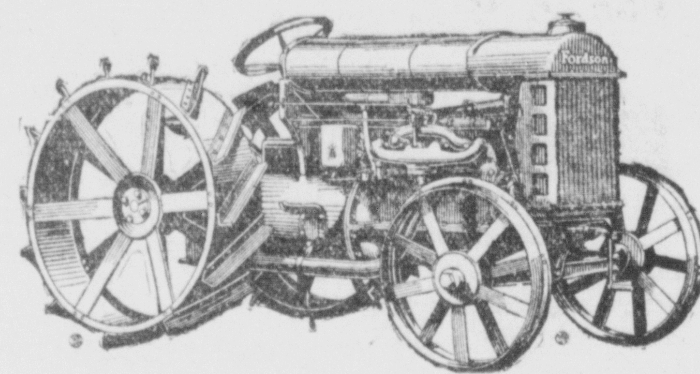

When Henry Ford set about building the Fordson tractor he had a thorough understanding of just what it should be and what it should do. His early life on the farm gave him a deep insight into the daily life of the farmer; his mechanical genius saw the type of tractor needed. He began work on a farm tractor thirty-five years ago, and for more than twelve years he experimented over more than 7,000 acres of land in different kinds of soil, with different crops.

So he built the Fordson. It is so simple that a school-boy can operate it. It is low in first cost. It is lowest in operating cost and Fordson parts and Fordson service are always to be had promptly from the dealer.

The Fordson is a profitable investment. It can be used every working day in the year. It is an inexpensive power plant that will lighten your farm work. It has proven its worth on more than one hundred thousand farms not only in operating implements in the fields but in belt and pulley work. And it doesn't eat when idle.

Don't delay ordering your Fordson tractor. The demand is greater than the supply.

THE PARIS COVENANT

I. The Aim: The Paris Covenant provides for a voluntary League of civilized nations, which shall undertake to promote the justice and preserve the peace of the world by accepting obligations not to resort to war, but to deal openly, justly, and honorably with one another, by scrupulously maintaining the sanctity of treaties, by firmly establishing the rules of international law as the rule of conduct between governments, and by establishing close co-operation in matters of common concern.

It does not assume to be able to end war, any more than governments assume to be able to end crime. But as governments reduce crime by settling disputes peaceably, by punishing crime when it is committed, and by organizing society in the general interest; so the League of Nations aims to reduce war by settling disputes peaceably, by penalizing the nation that begins war contrary to the covenant of the League, and by an administration of matters of common concern in the interest of the people of the whole world.

II. The Covenant: To accomplish these purposes, the members of the League agree that they will—

Respect and Preserve the Political Independence and Territorial Integrity of each member against external aggression. (Article 10.)

Submit Disputes to Arbitration by a tribunal administering international law or to mediation by the Council of the Assembly provided for in the treaty, and furnish a statement of the case to the Secretary General of the League. (Article 12, No. 1.)

Abstain from War against any member until the dispute has been submitted to arbitration or mediation, and until three months after the award or recommendation, and even then not go to war with a member of the League that complies with the award of the tribunal or with the unanimous recommendation of the Council or Assembly. (Article 12.)

Carry Out in Good Faith any awards that may be rendered whenever the parties to the dispute voluntarily agree to arbitrate. (Article 13, No. 4.)

Boycotte any Nation that goes to war contrary to the covenant of the League, support one another in economic measures necessary to make the boycott effective, support one another in resisting any special measure aimed at one of their number by the offending state, and afford passage through their territory to the forces of League members operating against the offending nation. (Article 16, No. 4.)

Exchange information concerning military and naval programs and industries adaptable to warlike purposes, and for stated periods not exceeding ten years, unless relieved of the obligation by the Council, observe limitations of armament when voluntarily adopted by each of them on recommendation of the Council. (Article 8, No. 7.)

Secure Fair and Humane Treatment for Labor, as far as practicable, at home and in all countries with which they trade. (Article 23 (a).)

Secure Just Treatment, so far as possible, for native inhabitants of territories under their control. (Article 23 (b).)

Entrust the League with Supervision over the execution of international agreements providing for the suppression of the white slave traffic and the sale of dangerous drugs, and with the supervision of the trade in arms and ammunition in countries where the control of this traffic is necessary in the common interest. (Article 23 (b).)

Maintain Freedom of Transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of members. (Article 23 (c).)

Co-operate in Measures for the prevention and control of disease. (Article 23 (f).)

Encourage and Promote Organization and work of the Red Cross. (Article 25.)

Establish International Bureaus to administer such matters of common interest as may be agreed upon. (Article 23 (a) et al.)

Abrogate all treaties and obligations among themselves inconsistent with the Covenant and enter into no such obligations in the future. (Article 20.)

Register all New Treaties, which shall not be binding until so registered. (Article 18.)

Pay a Due Share of the expense of administering the affairs of the League. (Article 6, No. 5.)

III. THE AGENCIES: The Covenant provides the following agencies to advise and assist in carrying out these agreements—

An Assembly which shall represent all member nations, determine by majority vote its own procedure, and meet at stated intervals and as occasion requires. Each member of the League may have three delegates but only one vote. The Assembly shall make its decisions by unanimous vote except as otherwise provided, and shall have power to—

"Deal With" (that is, discuss, and, no doubt, express opinions concerning) All Matters within the sphere of action of the League, or affecting the peace of the world. (Article 3, No. 3.)

Advise and Reconsideration of Treaties which have become inapplicable, or of international conditions dangerous to peace. (Article 10.)

Select the Four Non-Permanent Members to the Council, in succession to Belgium, Brazil, Greece, and Spain temporarily appointed by vote of the Paris conference pending action by the Assembly. (Article 4, No. 1.)

Admit New Members to the League by two-thirds vote. (Article 1, No. 2.)

Inquire into Disputes referred to it by the Council or the parties to the dispute and by majority vote make recommendations which, if concurred in by the votes of all the States represented in the Council, exclusive in each case of the parties to the dispute, will protect from attack the States complying with them. (Article 15, No. 13.)

A Council of nine which by majority vote shall determine its own procedure and meet at least once each year, each member having one vote as follows: representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and of the following four nations designated by the Peace Conference to serve until the Assembly shall appoint their successors—Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain.* The Council shall have power, by unanimous vote to—

Expel a Member that has violated any covenant of the League. (Article 16, No. 10.)

Formulate Plans for the reduction of armaments for the consideration of the several governments, such plans to be subject to revision at least every ten years. (Article 8, No. 2.)

Advise How the Evils attendant upon the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war may be obviated. (Article 8, No. 6.)

Advise Upon the Means of preserving the territorial integrity and political independence of the members against external aggression, whether actual or threatened. (Article 10, No. 2.)

Propose What Shall be Done to give effect to the decision, if a state fails to carry out the award of an arbitration by which it has agreed to abide. (Article 13, No. 6.)

Formulate Plans for a permanent Court of International Justice. (Article 14.)

Inquire into Disputes not within the domestic jurisdiction of a State, and not submitted to the Court or to arbitration or to the Assembly; endeavor to secure a settlement by mediation and failing this, make a recommendation, which, if unanimous, protects the state complying with it from attack. (Article 15, No. 7.)

Recommend What Military and Naval Forces shall be contributed by each member to protect the covenants of the League against a nation that resorts to war contrary thereto. (Article 16, No. 6.)

A Permanent Commission to advise on military and naval questions. (Article 9.)

tional interest; existing international bureaus such as the International Postal Union to come under the League's direction when parties to the treaties creating them so agree, and all international bureaus hereafter created to come automatically under the League's direction. (Article 24.)

IV. GUIDING PRINCIPLES: The Covenant formulates the following principles for the guidance of League members and administrative agencies—

That the Validity of International Engagements for the maintenance of peace such as the Monroe Doctrine and treaties of arbitration shall not be affected by the covenant. (Article 21.)

That War or Threat of War anywhere is the concern of the League, since war, like fire, is liable to spread; and the members of the League may take action to safeguard the peace of nations. (Article 11.)

That Making War contrary to the covenants of the League shall be deemed an act of war on the part of the offending nation against all other members of the League. (Article 10, No. 1.)

That Maintenance of Peace requires reduction of armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement of international obligations. (Article 8.)

That Submission of Any Dispute to mediation by the Council can be effected by either party thereto by giving notice of its existence to the Secretary General. (Article 15, No. 2.)

That Each Member of the League shall have the right and responsibility of calling the attention of the League to anything that threatens to disturb peace and good understanding among nations. (Article 11, No. 2.)

That Publication of the Facts of all Disputes that threaten war and are not settled by arbitration shall be made, so far as expedient whether or not unanimous recommendation of an award is reached. (Article 1, No. 5.)

That the Well-Being and Development of Backward Peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empires, or in territories taken from them, is a sacred trust, and that they shall be administered by nations acting as agents or mandataries of the League; a principal consideration in the selection of such mandataries being the wishes of the peoples in the areas to be administered. (Article 22, No. 1.)

That All Positions in connection with the League shall be open equally to men and women. (Article 7, No. 3.)

V. THE LIMITATIONS: Things the Paris Covenant does NOT do.

Does NOT create a super-government outranking those of member states or maintaining armies to overawe them; but is a treaty in which the members pledge themselves to maintain a condition of international morality akin to that maintained by every civilized State within its own borders.

Does NOT commit members to obligations position where it can be coerced by the vote draw from membership on two years' notice, if its international and League obligations have been fulfilled, just as a partner may withdraw from a partnership.

Does NOT place the United States in a position where it can be coerced by the vote of other nations in the Council or the Assembly, as the power of these bodies is almost wholly advisory and even for this a unanimous vote is required on all vital matters.

Does NOT involve the calling out of American soldiers in case of local squabbles in the Balkans or elsewhere. While members of the League are obliged to take part in a boycott against a nation that attacks another member contrary to the league covenant, they do not otherwise agree to join in making war.

Does NOT place peace above justice, but PROVIDES for war as a last resort to restrain an aggressive nation and does not forbid war against a nation that refuses to accept the awards of League tribunals and in case of disputes where no decision can be reached by the Council or Assembly.

Does NOT prevent the division or union of existing nations, but keeps open every means of effecting changes in national boundaries except by external aggression.

Does NOT affect the constitutional authority of Congress to declare war, although Congress will be morally bound by this treaty as by every other. The Council can RECOMMEND war but only Congress can DECLARE WAR.

Does NOT destroy the Monroe Doctrine. On the contrary, the Monroe Doctrine for the first time in history is expressly recognized by all the members of the League, and its principle extended to the world by means of the provision that the territorial integrity and political independence of all the members shall be preserved.

Does NOT interfere in the domestic affairs of any nation. That also is expressly provided against. The League has no right to interfere with revolutions, rebellions, immigration, tariffs and other internal problems of its members, although it may take notice of them and make recommendations when such matters threaten the peace of the world.

Does NOT exceed the treaty power under the Constitution. The United States has during its history entered into treaties involving all the powers affected by the covenant.

VI. MEMBERSHIP: The Covenant provides the following rules for membership in the League:

CHARTER MEMBERSHIP is open to the following signatories to the Treaty of Peace: United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Hedjaz, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia Siam, Uruguay, and to the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentine Republic, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

Other Self-Governing States, Dominions or Colonies may be admitted to the League provided they give effective guarantees of sincerity and accept such regulations regarding military and naval armaments as may be prescribed by the League.

VII. LOCATION: The seat of the League shall be at Geneva unless changed by the Council.

VIII. APPROVAL, RATIFICATION AND AMENDMENT:

This Covenant in its original form was unanimously approved by representatives of fourteen nations at the Peace Conference, was then referred to the peoples of the world for criticism and suggestion and revised in the light of this discussion. It includes all the material amendments requested by the people of the United States. In its final form, it is now referred to the governments of the nations for adoption. When ratified, it can be amended by the unanimous vote of the nations represented in the Council and a majority of the nations represented in the Assembly.

No amendment, however, shall bind any member of the League which signifies its dissent therefrom, but in that case the dissenting state would cease to be a member of the League.

*The Council may, by unanimous vote of its own members and a majority vote of the Assembly, increase its permanent membership. By similar procedure it may increase the number to be selected by the Assembly.

†The vote of the covenant-breaking nation if a member of the Council, would be ignored in determining unanimity of action.

MR. TAFT ON THE LEAGUE

"When Mr. Wilson brought to this country the League Covenant, as reported to the Paris Conference I urged on the same platform with him that we join the League. I thereafter recommended amendments, many of which were adopted into its final form. Had I been in the Senate I would have voted for the League and Treaty as submitted; and I advocated its ratification accordingly. I did not think and I do not now think that anything in the League Covenant as sent to the Senate would violate the constitution of the United States or would involve us in wars which it would not be to the highest interest of the world and the country to suppress by universal boycott and, if need be, by military force. I consider that the moral effect of Article X on predatory nations would restrain them from war as the declaration of the Monroe Doctrine has done and that the requirement of the unanimous consent by the representatives of the great powers in council before League action would safeguard the United States from any perversion of the high purpose of the League. Moreover, I believe that the issue of the League transcends in its importance any domestic issues and would justify and require one who believes so to ignore party ties and secure this great boon for the world and this country."

WILLIAM H. TAFT, Aug. 2, 1920.

(But Mr. Taft, like many other Republicans who have held office, can't bring himself to desert his party because he calculates that not enough Republican Senators can be removed to insure a two-thirds majority for the League without nullifying reservations. He seems to have forgotten that Mr. Lodge, the Senate Republican leader, promised to abide by the people's verdict. The very object of this election is to find what the people of the United States, not a few Senators, want. The President and the Senate may need to compromise somewhat, and Governor Cox has expressly stated his willingness "to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations offered in sincerity and not trumped up for political purposes." If a Senate minority should really defy the people's will, it must be fought to a finish if this requires waiting till 1922 or 1924.)

NATIONS INVITED TO JOIN WHICH HAVE NOT RATIFIED THE COVENANT

39—United States of America
42—Honduras

The League of Nations is already established with 43 of the leading nations as members.

These nations will not abandon the League simply because we do not join.

The only great question is shall we go in, or stay out?

What we gain by going in: 1—Help restore peace in the world and prevent future wars. 2—Increase our power and prestige and take our place as the leading nation in the world's work. 3—Safeguard our foreign loans, increase our foreign trade, retain our rights under the Treaty of Versailles, save billions of dollars a year of taxes to build dreadnaughts and otherwise prepare for war. 4—Uphold our honor and regain our international good will, the greatest asset any nation can have. 5—Secure what our soldiers fought for, a means of making the world safe.

The only objections to the League of Nations are fanciful and for the most part "trumped up for political purposes."

The League does not impair our sovereignty. It is only a means of conference to give advice and even this advice cannot be given unless the United States through its representative consents.

The League cannot declare war nor order our soldiers abroad. It does not prevent internal revolutions; it does not prevent change of boundary except through arbitration. It provides the best chance for Irish self-determination.

PRO-LEAGUE INDEPENDENTS

The purpose of The Pro-League Independents, consisting of Pro-League Republicans and Independents who intend to vote for Cox and Roosevelt, is to give correct information to voters on the League of Nations and help disabuse their minds of the mass of misinformation now current.

Among the most common misrepresentations of the League are: that it is a super-government which impairs American sovereignty; that England could outvote us and override us; that the League could, by a majority vote, compel us to go to war against our will, or order our soldiers abroad; that the League fixes forever existing boundaries and nationalities. All of these notions of the League are absolutely false.

The prime purpose of the League is to secure proper and effective co-operation of sovereign nations when unanimously desiring to suppress the breaking of world peace by boycotting any nation which attempts it, and by agreeing to submit disputes between two nations to a third party.

Those who wish to more fully inform themselves are referred to the article by Republican Governor Samuel McCall in the September Atlantic, the article by an Independent, Dr. Charles W. Elliott, President emeritus of Harvard University, in the October Atlantic and the book by George Creel, "The War, the World and Wilson." Or write for literature to the National Democratic Committee, Grand Central Palace, New York, The League to Enforce Peace, 22 W. 19th Street, New York, N. Y., The World Peace Foundation, 40 Mount Vernon Street, Boston, Mass., The Pro-League Independents, 17 E. 41st Street, New York City.

The Republican Campaign Book is full of these fanciful objections. But it DELIBERATELY OMITTS the league covenant itself which would enable the reader to see through these objections.

A Bright Future

Judge E. H. Gary sees a bright future for America and American business.

Just home from a sojourn in Europe during which it was inevitable that a comprehensive survey of conditions there, as relating to America and American business be made by the head of the United States Steel Corporation, he asserts that there is not a cloud in America's business sky if we but act firmly and courageously, accept falling prices as they occur, uncomplainingly and proceed to reform our business affairs to meet new conditions.

Judge Gary has struck the key note when he says that all is well if we quit grumbling about changing conditions when they affect our own business.

If we will meet and welcome changes, which we know are inevitable, in the proper spirit there will be no confusion and no halting of business, no dimming of our prospects.

If we complain and expect others to stand all the drop in prices we will have trouble.

We must, if we are to go forward, and we can if we will, quit finding fault, accept conditions and go ahead.

Judge Gary is correct when he sees in America's business future a clear sky. There are no clouds there now and none will come unless America brings them.

Have A Thought

We urge every voter in Fayette County, regardless of party affiliation, regardless of how he or she has determined to vote on any other proposal or for what other candidates, to pause, in the quiet of the election booth for a moment before casting a vote for representation to Congress from this district. Consider the two candidates, Paul F. Dye and Simeon D. Fess.

Just for a moment—before you put your cross mark on the ballot—think what conditions were just two years ago—just two years ago before the instant you make the cross, Paul F. Dye was at Montfaucon, France, the little village where the German Crown Prince had, for more than three years before the American soldiers drove the Huns back, made his headquarters. Montfaucon is in the heart of the Argonne Forest. Paul F. Dye was there—a member of the 308th American Ammunition Train of the 32nd Division, Colonel Thomas Fitzgerald commanding.

Reflect, on November 2nd. Just what were you doing during the anxious moments two years ago. What did you promise yourself, if those boys fought their way through and got home again? Remember? Well the result of that fight in the Argonne Forest is history. Paul F. Dye was one of the boys who came home. He is here now. He asks that you vote for him.

Think on November 2nd whether you want to make good on your promise or forget the days of 1918.

There is not a word can be said against Paul F. Dye. Clean, competent, ambitious and as anxious to serve now as he was then. Better qualified, in every way, for the place than Dr. Fess and beside that, we promised.

Why vote for him against Paul F. Dye?

Let's make good.

Two years ago, if anyone had suggested to a voter that on election day 1920, under conditions as they exist, there would be hesitancy in voting for Paul F. Dye the one who made that suggestion would have had a fight right off.

Remember on November 2nd. It's the same Paul Dye now a candidate for Congress who two years ago was in the Argonne.

Think of it when you vote.

POETRY FOR TODAY

FAIRY GOLD

In the lore that is known to our childhood,
The beautiful story is told
That under the foot of the rainbow
The fairies have hidden their gold,
Forever eluding but tempting,
The sunshine is bright on the rain,
And over the hills and the valleys
We follow the glory—in vain.

Through we stand where we thought
It had rested,
Yet distant it ever appears;
For what seems the rainbow to others
To those at its foot may be tears
The strongest of charms is upon it,
This treasure, which never is gained;
And bright, with a glory celestial
Is the goal that is never attained.

BEST CHANCE FOR COX IN MIDDLE WEST IS INDIANA

Many Factors That Work In Favor of Victory for Democrats.

Republicans Are Weakened By Party Facionalism and Union Labor Opposition

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Indianapolis, October 25.—Of the five states in this middle Western country lying between the Mississippi and the Appalachians and North of the Ohio, Indiana is the one that Cox has the best chance of carrying. His next best chance is in Ohio.

In one of the states, Michigan, he has absolutely no chance whatever; and in Illinois in spite of the factionalism within the Republican ranks, Cox has no chance. Also in Wisconsin, although the factionalism there is even worse than in Illinois, with the regular Republicans trying to defeat the party nominee for governor, and the LaFollette Republicans trying to defeat the party nominee for senator Harding will win.

It is in Indiana that Cox has his best chance. The Republicans now, and for the past three weeks, have been claiming the state by about 65,000 for Harding, with the Republican senatorial candidate Watson, 15,000 or 20,000 less. I think these figures represent really sound investigation and a reasonably conservative point of view on the part of the Republicans. But 65,000 is not an insuperable handicap for a state as large as Indiana, and there are many factors that work in favor of the Democrats.

Cox Strong With Union Labor

First of all, Lake county, which contains the new steel city of Gary and other industrial towns, is almost a state in itself, and the best judgment is that Lake county will go strongly Democratic. In conversations with Democratic leaders, as well as Republicans, both groups claim this industrial region. But it seems to me the Democrats have the better ground for confidence. Union labor is strong in Lake County, and where ever union labor is strong Cox is strong.

I think it can be stated as a generalization, applicable to the country as a whole, that no other man who ever ran for the presidency will have as large a union labor vote as Cox. The American Federation of labor is working zealously for him. For example I have been told that the American Federation of Labor recently sent $150,000 in Kansas to be spent on organization work for Cox. From the point of view of Democratic success, I think Kansas is a poor place in which to spend that much money and that it could have been used to better advantage in a state less thoroughly committed to Harding. But I cite it merely as an evidence of how thoroughly union labor will carry this industrial region in Indiana for Cox.

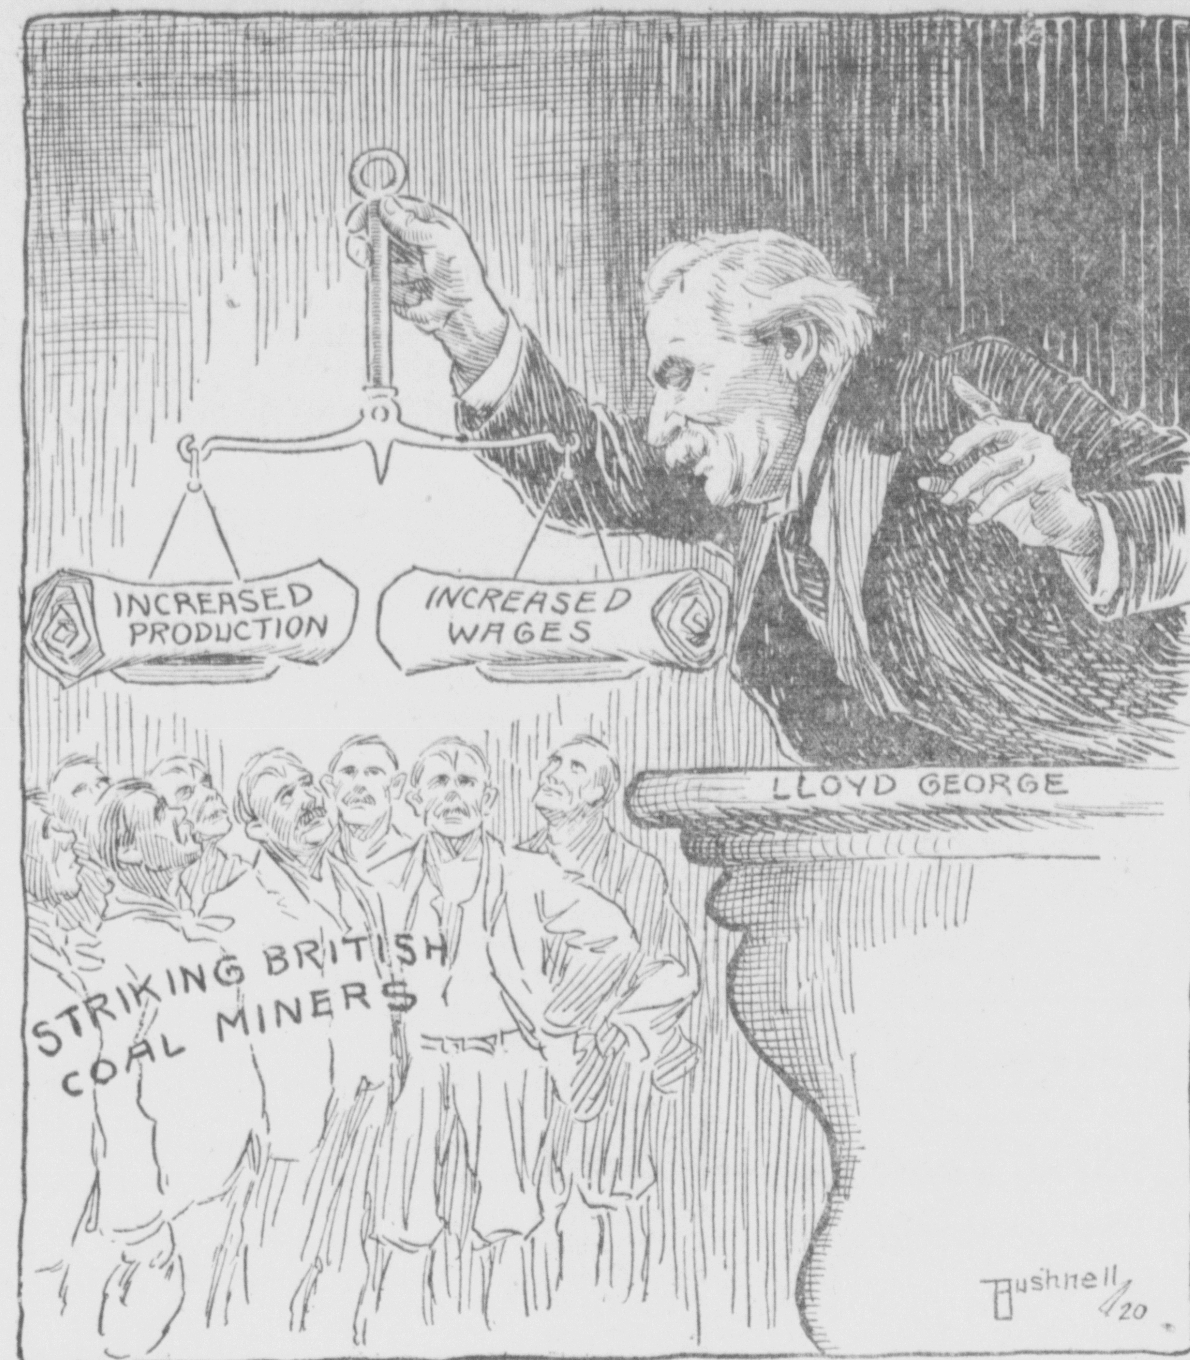

Furthermore, all the thirteen Congressmen and the two senators from Indiana are Republicans, and every one of them voted for the Cummins-Esch railroad bill. Organized labor is making a fight against the Cummins-Esch Bill, and the aggregate of opposition to these congressmen and senators for this vote must count a good deal. Similarly, both these senators and all these congressmen voted for prohibition, and in the same way the aggregate of opposition to prohibition throughout the state must count something. It may be conceded that support of the Cummins-Esch bill and prohibition was a meritorious thing, but it still remains as a fact in practical politics that the aggregate of opposition throughout the entire state to both these measures is a Democratic asset.

Other Hopes for Democrats

Moreover, Indiana, and especially the metropolis, Indianapolis, is communities go, rather strong pro-league territory. Both the great papers in Indianapolis have been strongly pro-league.

Still, further, Indiana is one of those states in which the wounds of the primary contest last spring are still bleeding. There was a bitter, statewide primary in which Wood Lowden Johnson and Harding all participated. Harding ran a very bad fourth. Naturally when he turned out a winner at Chicago, the Indiana supporters of the other three, who had been worked up to a high pitch of loyalty by the bitterness of the primary fight, resented Harding's success. There are many former adherents of Wood and Johnson especially who are not very loyal to the Republican ticket, and many of the rank-and-file Republicans who were worked up to intense devotion to Wood or Johnson will quietly express their bitterness by voting for Cox. There is more of this than the Indiana politicians realize.

In addition the Republicans have lost some popularity in Indiana by what many consider to be just as virtuous a thing as the Cummins-Esch bill. Indiana, under a Republican Governor, Goodrich, revised the whole system of taxation in the state. A stranger passing through hardly has time to pass judgment on the merits of the new tax system, but Gov. Goodrich is an able, hard working business man, and it is probable that the change in the taxation system was meritorious.

Nevertheless, taxation is a field in which the most meritorious things are frequently the least popular. The fact is that there is widespread resentment against the Republicans. I heard of one great business concern in Indiana whose basis of taxation was raised from $150,000 to $17,000,000. Naturally this concern and the community in which it exists feels the change.

Weak Republican Candidates

Further yet, parts of the Republican state ticket here are very weak. One of the Republican candidates for an important state office is more or less openly charged with some extremely undesirable conduct in a former official career.

Finally, the Republican senatorial candidate in Indiana, Watson, who is seeking re-election, is pretty generally recognized as a weak brother.

Many substantial persons, including some Republican leaders, say that Watson is not of Senatorial calibre; that he ought never to have been sent to the Senate, and that it is an injustice to Watson, as well as to the state, to put a man in the senate whose personality and natural ability are not up to the office. If this were a normal year without a presidential contest there isn't a doubt in the world that Watson would be badly beaten.

His opponent is the old-time Democratic leader, Thomas Taggart. Taggart, by comparison with his opponent as well as by the passage of the years, seems to have measurably elevated himself in the opinion of the Indiana people. He still has a considerable way to go, but he is thought of very differently from what was the case ten years ago. Many people in Indianapolis who were rigidly opposed to him years ago are now disposed to give him some support, or at least to default in supporting Watson.

Three Republican Advantages

The sum of all this is that the Republican will carry Indiana, if they carry it at all, by only a slender margin and by means of assets which they must recognize as neither very dependable nor very durable. The three assets that may carry the Republicans through are, first, dislike of Wilson and of the Democratic Administration and determination to have a change; second, a large German vote, which years ago was solidly Democratic but now equally solidly Republican and third, the considerable negro vote in the state. Indianapolis is probably the largest negro city in the north and they are all Republicans. Considerably more than half the white citizens of Indiana will vote the Democratic ticket.

The state of things in Indiana is pictured in the words of a strong Republican, who said: "We are going to elect Harding in order to rid of Wilson; and we are even going to elect Watson, because we want to run no risks of a Democratic senate. But on the day after election you watch us. We are going to start a housecleaning that will raise some dust."

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

High school girls of Philadelphia have endorsed a recommendation for a standardized school dress consisting of simple serge frocks for winter and midgy blouses for spring and summer. The movement was started by a group of high school girls attending a Y. W. C. A. conference this summer who agreed to adopt the style and to urge their friends to do the same. The idea, proposed in the larger schools of Philadelphia, has spread throughout the city. According to one of the leaders of the movement, "Many girls who are of average school age have left school and are working because they could not afford the expensive costumes worn by their classmates."

The young girls of Miss Emily Palmer's Sunday School Class of the First Presbyterian Church liked to the Parrett farm on the Jeffersonville pike, Saturday noon for a jolly roast. Games added to the fun.

The Tuesday noon lunches for business women and girls, under the auspices of the Young Woman's Council of the Y. W. C. A. are steadily growing in popularity.

Only those women who have sampled these lunches know how delicious they are and what a pleasurable social oasis they make in the day's work. The menu of last Tuesday included meat croquettes, escaloped corn, peach salad, hot biscuits, butter, apple jelly and ice tea and it was deliciously cooked and daintily served by Mrs. Ada Mabry, an excellent cateress. Just as delicious and dainty a menu will be served Tuesday, October the twenty-sixth. The menus are planned with the special object of having the unusual dainties that are not found in the everyday lunch and any suggestions are cordially welcomed.

The special purpose of these lunches is to promote sociability and at the next lunch Miss Helen Dixon, violinist

SERVICES HELD FOR WINFRED MINTON

The White Oak Grove church was filled Sunday afternoon for the funeral of Winfred Minton, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Minton, of near Buena Vista. Rev. Floyd Gale officiated at the services.

A quartet, Mrs. Hattie Burnett, Mrs. Bernice Wain, Rev. Poke and daughter Dorothy, sang sweetly the hymns, "The Home of the Soul" "Does Jesus Care" and "Asleep in Jesus." Mrs. Jesse Cossey accompanied them at the piano.

The family, had chosen the text from Job 14th chapter and 14th verse, "If a man die shall he live again?" Rev. Gale emphasized the appropriateness of the text, and dwelt upon the preparation the young boy had made for death in his conversion and the comfort that this future hope proved to his family.

Rev. Gale read the memoir written by the brother Everett Minton. There were a number of beautiful floral remembrances, including special designs from the family, and Winfred's Sunday School class.

The pallbearers were: Bryan Coffey, Oren Patton, Dan Stuckey, Herman Burton, Paul Wain and Samuel Roush. Burial was made in the White Oak Grove cemetery.

"RUBE" BENTON COULD ONLY TIE THE LOCAL CLUB

Earl Gaines Outpitches New York Hurler Who Was Wild.

Athletics and Sabina Team Battle Until Darkness Settles Over Field.

Washington and Sabina fought ten innings to a 3 to 3 tie in the second game of the series at Sabina Sunday, darkness ending the battle.

The game, considered by many the best of the season was featured by the pitching of "Pepper" Gaines and the sensational fielding of Corwin and Suttles.

Gaines clearly out pitched "Rube" Benton, of New York Nationals, who was on the hill for the Clintonians.

With one down and men on first and second in the fourth, Gleason hit an easy grounder to Corwin. With an easy double play in sight, Doyle let "Hig's" throw get away and both runners scored.

The other Sabina run came in the first inning. Bowman shot a Texas Leaguer to center, Atley brought Bowman cross with a bingle to left field.

Washington scored two in the third. Emery, first man up, drew a free ticket to first and went to second on a passed ball. Gaines and Jones fanned. Doyle singled to right field, Emery tapping the rubber.

The final Athletic score came in the lucky 7th. With one down Gaines shot a hit over 2nd. Jones forced Gaines at 2nd. A moment later Nip stole 2nd, catching the Sabina team napping.

Doyle shot a double into left. Jones scored.

The shadows were rapidly falling when Umpire Theegee called the game at the end of the 10th.

Sore by innings:

Clubs 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Washington, 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 3
Sabina, 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3
Stolen Base—Jones.
Sacrifice—Doyle, Suttles, Stiller, 2.
Shutout—Doyle, Suttles, Stiller, 2.
Two base hits—Doyle, Bowman, Stead.

Runs Responsible For—Doyle, 2; Corwin, 1; Gleason, 2; Atley, 1.
Double Plays—Emery to Corwin; Suttles to Doyle to McCall.

BEBE DANIELS IN "NEVER CAN TELL"

Beauty, brains, personality and plenty of "pep"—no wonder Bebe Daniels draws wherever she appears in a photoplay, and in the dashing comedy, "You Never Can Tell" showing Monday and Tuesday at the Palace theater, she finds a Redart vehicle that is the newest of "film twinklers."

Bebe Daniels is the luscious, fiery, Spanish brunette type of beauty and in the Redart program acts as a perfect foil beauty of Wanda Hawler and Mary Miles Minter.

In "You Never Can Tell" Miss Daniels gets every ounce of entertainment out of the vote of Rowena Patricia Jones, a beautiful check room girl who nearly burns her eyebrows before she flutters into safe security of married happiness with "Prince Charming."

For the woman who follows with close interest all the changes of styles "You Never Can Tell" will prove exceptionally entertaining. Absolutely new creations are shown, that will not appear until the spring of 1921. One of the biggest features of the offering is a magnificent fashion show, in which gorgeously attired mannequins parade the lobby of a big New York hotel.

HARDING REQUESTS ANSWER FROM DEMS

(By Associated Press) Marion, Ohio, October 24.—Accusing the Democratic Party of failure to place its policies clearly before the people, Senator Harding asked in statement tonight that his opponents make answer to numerous charges he has brought against them during the campaign.

At the same time the Republican nominee declared that in his public utterances he had proposed a definite constructive policy "to bring our people out of the jungle of mismanagement."

GOV. COX ATTACKS LEADING MAGAZINE

(By Associated Press)

New York, October 24.—After a forty hour visit which his campaign managers declare had "won New York," Governor Cox left here this afternoon for the last week of his campaign speechmaking before election. The Democratic presidential candidate expressed "entire confidence in the outcome of the campaign."

Governor Cox kept to his apartment most of the day, holding conferences with E. H. Moore and other party officials.

ATTACKS POST

In a statement issued tonight, the Governor said:

"Propaganda is not effective when it is labeled; but in the guise of facts, it strangles the truth and moulds the minds into which it is introduced as facts."

"I am just now in possession of a specimen of propaganda of this sort. It is an advance copy of the Saturday Evening Post, known to the great public as a disinterested journal."

The number of this magazine, which is to be distributed next Thursday, the last number before election suddenly throws off the claim of non-partisanship. For the first time in history it reports to the devices of partisan and insidious cartoons to create a sentiment for the Republican ticket.

In the cartoons, I am represented as a newsboy inventing false and sensational happenings for the purpose of selling my wares. My opponent is depicted as kindly and wise. The impression is sought to be created that I am irresponsible; Senator Harding grave and reliable.

"Why has the Saturday Evening Post done this? The people know the answer. It has done this thing because its owner is one of the plutocratic group which knows what it wants of the next administration and how to get it from the syndicate which controls Senator Harding."

"It has done this because its owner is the head of the movement which has sought a subsidy from the government for the delivery of national magazines."

Some men try to do others they are damned by.

One kind of dignity is used to cover an intellectual vacuum.

If you would flatter a man tell him he is proof against flattery.

TANLAC DISPLAY MAKES GREAT HIT

Unique And Attractive Display of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest, has been placed in the show window of C. S. Haver Drug Store, on Court Street in this city the local agents for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scene from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietors of the store state that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist.

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitats and environment, gathering the roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, llamas and other beasts of burden for travel by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day.

From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body-builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they received have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their products in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers through out the United States and Canada.

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by I. W. Murphy and in Milledgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Ortmann, Selden. — Advt.

PARENTS OF WEAK AILING CHILDREN

Will Be Interested In This Letter

A mother writes: "My little girl was weak, puny and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended, — it built up her strength and made her healthy, so now she romps and plays like other children and is robust and rosy."

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the very elements needed to create red corpuscles in the blood, quicken the circulation, increase the appetite and soon strength and vitality is imparted to every part of the body.

Your druggists sell Vinol, therefore do not accept any substitute. — Advt.

BOTTOM FALLS OUT OF MARKET FOR RAW FURS

Trappers Asked to Delay Their Usual Early Activities.

Columbus, October 25.—The bottom has fallen out of the fur market, according to word given out by A. C. Baxter, chief of the state fish and game department, and a state wide appeal is being made to trappers requesting them to delay their trapping operations until December 1 this year, in order to conserve fur bearing animals and prevent the taking of fur bearers whose pelts will have practically no market value if taken in November. In spite of the fact that the law on several varieties of fur bearing animals opens November 1.

With the fur markets of the world flooded with raw furs and prices falling every day, early November fur will not be worth the taking Baxter advises after consulting with leading fur merchants of the state.

Muskies that brought four dollars each in 1919 will be quoted at from thirty-five to fifty cents only, and skunks that brought double the amount last year will be quoted at from two and one-half to three dollars only for the best pelts. A similar drop is promised in all other furs.

Baxter advises that the slump is due to the immense stock of furs the dealers have on hand ready for the manufacturers, amounting to millions of dollars in value throughout the United States. The extreme high prices last year caused excessive trapping and this, together with the fur strike lasting all summer and fall, has caused a surplus that dealers will not buy.

Fur dealers have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because of decline in values, and it will be money out of the trappers' pockets as well as a useless waste of fur bearing animals to have them killed before December. Baxter declares. Only prime furs and full furred pelts, commanding highest prices, are wanted this season, the fur merchants of the world advise.

Browning started on the hill for the Cubs and allowed but one hit in the six innings he worked. Melvin pitched the remainder of the game and hung up a string of strike outs but his support was poor.

Pepto-Mangan, The Red Blood Builder Does Away With Languor

If you don't feel like doing things, you won't. If you wonder where some people get their energy, the answer is from good food which in turn makes rich, red blood.

If your food does not give the nourishment and vigor it should, it is most likely that your blood is so weak that it needs a little extra help for a time to build it up to normal strength.

Thousands of men and women have been restored to vigorous health and lasting happiness by Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This beneficial blood tonic contains the very properties so vitally needed to improve the blood. Pepto-Mangan, if taken for a few weeks, will enrich the blood and create thousands of the tiny red blood cells that are so necessary to carry nourishment and strength to every part of the body.

Be sure to ask your druggist for "Gude's" when you order Pepto-Mangan. For convenience it is prepared in liquid and tablet form, both possessing exactly the same medicinal properties. "Gude's" is the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advt.

Anyone can make an anti hog-cholera serum — you could do it yourself if you knew how. But when you had done it, how would you know there were no deadly poisons in it — no abscess-forming bacteria that would make your product do more harm than good?

How would you know that your serum was effective — that it was positively potent?

There can be no doubt on those points as to our serum, because every lot of

Looks like a stove — acts like a furnace. Note the pipes on each side of the stove. Fresh air goes in at the bottom — warm air comes out at the top. Creates constant circulation of warm air from the heat that other stoves allow to escape up the chimney. The intense heat rushing out of the top of the pipes gives the circulating air a great carrying capacity. Powerful enough to heat several rooms. Burns any kind of fuel. PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP
Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. DECIDING GAME OF THE SERIES WON BY TIGERS

Over One Thousand People See Tigers Defeat Derby In Great Battle.

High Record Set By Tigers In Their First Season.

In the last game of the season Sunday afternoon the Jeffersonville Tigers triumphed over the Derby A. C. baseball club on the Jeffersonville diamond, 3 to 1, and thereby took the decisive game of a five game series. It was estimated that a crowd of more than a thousand persons, from all over Fayette county, saw the contest. There were 960 paid admissions. Al Lenke, former leaguer and star twirler of the Dayton Triangles, and who has pitched some for the Tigers was on the field and coached the Tiger team to victory.
Hieronemus had the best of Connard in a pitching duel and held the Derby team to five scattered hits while Connard was nicked for six bingles and was removed in favor of Hunter in the seventh inning.
Jeffersonville opened the attack in the first inning and scored by some daring base running on the part of shortstop Martin. As the first man up Martin walked, stole second, stole third and finished his wild chase around the sacks by stealing home.
Derby tied it up in the first of the sixth inning when Crum singled, stole second and third and scored on an error. The Tigers made the winning run in their half of the season by putting two runs across. Martin hit to the Derby shortstop, who fumbled. Whitehead laid down a beautiful sacrifice. Martin went to third when Day's hit into a fielder's choice. Martin scored when Spangler singled and then went to second on an error. Spangler scored when Cooper singled Miller hit for two bases but was stranded when Hieronemus fled out.

The Tigers were shut out but twice during the season and scored 124 runs to their opponents 30. Miller made both home runs scored by the team and was one of the leading sluggers in Fayette baseball.

STUMBLING ABOUT LIKE DRUNK MAN

Machinist says his liver was sluggish, bowels constipated, gas bloated his stomach. Two bottles of Dreco have relieved him entirely, he declares.

"I used to have difficulty in keeping on the sidewalk because I'd get so dizzy I'd stumble along like I was drunk," said Mr. William Allwine, the well known machinist residing at 112 East Railroad St. Tiffin, Ohio.
"After each meal my stomach would fill up with gas, making me very uncomfortable. I couldn't enjoy sitting around home at night on account of the gas. My stomach burned like it had fire in it. My bowels were bound up; liver was very sluggish; my tongue had a thick coat on it all the time and my breath was bad. I got nervous so that my sleep was broken and my appetite was very poor.
"Though I had taken much medicine, none seemed to reach my troubles but two bottles of Dreco have cleaned me out fine and I feel better than I have in years. My liver is active, bowels more regular; no more gas troubles me; I have a good appetite and sleep fine. Dreco surely benighted me."
Dreco is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves, which act on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart flutterings, gas on the stomach and other troubles.
All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Washington C. H. by Frank Christopher. Advt.
